

LEGACY GIVING

Blue Ridge Pregnancy Center Planned Giving

A simple yet impactful way to support the Blue Ridge Pregnancy Center's mission is to remember BRPC in your will or estate plan. Many planned giving options provide tax benefits and some even offer life income to you, while ensuring you leave a lasting legacy for years to come.

Options for Planned Giving:

- Make a Bequest to BRPC in Your Will or Trust: A bequest is a simple and flexible way to support BRPC. You can leave a specific bequest to the Blue Ridge Pregnancy Center by naming BRPC in your will or trust.
- Designate BRPC as the Beneficiary of Your Retirement Account: Naming BRPC as the beneficiary of your retirement account, such as your IRA, 401(k), 403(b), pension, or other tax deferred plan is an excellent and tax efficient way to give to BRPC.
- Name BRPC as the Beneficiary of your Life Insurance Policy
- Gifts of Stocks and Bonds: A gift of securities, such as stocks and bonds, is an easy way to make a lifetime or testamentary gift. By making a gift of appreciated securities, you can avoid paying capital gains tax that may otherwise be due upon the sale of those appreciated assets.
- Gifts of Real Estate: A gift of real property can make a great gift, and can allow you to avoid paying capital gains tax on appreciated property. There are several ways to make a gift of real estate, including giving a parcel to BRPC through your will or trust, reserving a life estate for yourself and giving the remainder interest to BRPC, or making a lifetime gift of real estate to avoid paying capital gains tax on appreciated property.
- Establish a Charitable Trust: Establishing a Charitable Trust, such as a Charitable Unitrust, Charitable Lead Trust, or a "Give it Twice Trust", can provide tax advantages, lifetime income, and provisions for individual beneficiaries.
